

April 2020

Due to the continuing situation of COVID-19, we have had to make some fast readjustments to our conference format. The health of all involved is our top priority.

The National Sustainability Conference will now be delivered 100% online via our digital platform on Monday 27th and Tuesday 28th April 2020.

Join us for an action-packed conference. Listen to professionals from the sustainability field, ask questions online while interacting with keynote speakers and offer your insight into sustainability.

Experience the 2020 National Sustainability Conference from the comfort of your home or office, with complete online access to audio and visual content for 30 days.
